Summary: A Poem about the Marines who died on Halo and in our own armed services

The Marine's Requiem

The Marine's Requiem

Blood.
>Dripping, slipping, rivers flowing
Whe sources of it are unknowing
>Whether they be living or dying--
Some of them have just stopped trying.

Sweat.
>Toil of labor for the home
To defeat the Covenant (as they are known.)
>To defend their beloved earthly home--
These Marine's love of country has been shown.

Tears.
>Running down a soldier's cheek
As he wanders, lost and weak.

>What is it that he does seek?
Rest from battle's cursed reek.

Remember the dead Marines.

End
file.
